Hit the Slopes in Val Gardena

A new year has started and the wonders of winter is slowly showing which calls for exciting times on the slopes. Val Gardena in northern Italy which not only is an attraction during both summer and winter but is also a UNESCO World Heritage Site and offers plenty of space with its 500 km of unique slopes. Let us introduce you to all the fun activities to do during this winter season.

Let your pulse increase with Val Gardena Active

Gardena Active is for those who want a guaranteed, fun, all-round experience. The weekly initiative invites visitors to actively experience the nature around Val Gardena also in winter and create your very own holiday programme.

Experiences includes fun and exciting excursions such as torch-lit walks, snowshoe hikes, sleigh rides, sunrise excursions and even cooking classes.

The highlight is 'Here comes the sun' that starts at 7 in the morning and climb to the Dantercepies Mountain Lounge to admire the sunrise while enjoying a great buffet breakfast. Be sure to be the first to return to the valley on your skis on a pristine, untouched slope. Guests at a Val Gardena Active establishment (marked with their own symbol) can enjoy these activities for free or make the most of them thanks to a special discount.

Enjoy magical Michelin stars

While visiting and hitting the slopes in Val Gardena you should also let your tastebuds taste magical and traditional food at Anna Stuben at the Hotel Gardena, the Alpenroyal Grand Hotel or at Suinsom in the Hotel Tyrol.
